A FREE CRUISE WILL BE GIVEN AWAY!!

Once again, A New Impression delivers professional networking with a twist – just in time for Valentine's Day! This couldn't be a better topic this holiday week.

You're married, you date, you've been hurt, you're in lust or love, you're mourning the loss of a significant other, you're looking for your soul mate, your professional relationships are not what they could be, etc. What do men and women really think? Better yet, what do they really want? What if you could ask a panel of experts poised to answer candidly about the truths they hear based on their experiences professionally? You'll have an opportunity to do just that at our monthly professional networking mixer for everyone!

Don't let one more day, week or month go by without being armed with this information. Hear the raw truth from professionals ready to answer your most perplexing questions about the opposite sex. Learn from the doctors and single professionals who choose to work with singles as their primary profession. Our panel of experts will speak from 6:30 -7:30PM. Do not forget to bring plenty of business cards, your appetite and sign up to win our free cruise, which will be given away that night! PLEASE do not forget to come armed with extra business cards to pass around and to place on our business card table.
